Continuing Professional Development

Aisling qualified as an Advanced Skills Teacher in 2013 and has been involved in a variety of projects designed to support school improvement. These projects include devising, delivering and implementing whole-school INSET, CPD and successfully facilitating programmes for Improving and Outstanding teachers, for teachers in her own school and across the county. She has also co-written a course for Aspirant Lead Practitioners, enabling successful teachers to extend and challenge themselves beyond the classroom.

Aisling has extensive experience of coaching and support for teachers on a one-to-one basis as well as supporting departmental development and inter-school support through audits, collaborative work, observations and feedback.

Aisling has been an English teacher for nine years and has strong subject knowledge in this field. She has worked with Nottingham Trent University on the Raising the Grade conference, planning exciting and innovative sessions to engage and motivate students to achieve their potential.

Aisling is a truly outstanding practitioner, both in the classroom and as a trainer, coach and mentor. Her creativity, combined with her extensive subject knowledge and comprehensive range of people skills, enable her to be able to provide both support and challenge to teachers in any context.

Aisling has worked in a number of schools to raise the standard of teaching and learning. She has tailored all support to meet the needs of the individual teacher/school and the outcomes of the support have been excellent.

Aisling is a talented, dedicated and highly skilled professional who makes a difference to those she works with.
